Objective

The objective of the Monte Mojino Fund is to support local mechanisms for the payment of ecosystem services through concurrent funds from the National Forestry Commission (CONAFOR, acronym in Spanish) in the La Guásima Community, Concordia, Sinaloa, ensuring the conservation of the sub-deciduous and deciduous tropical forest located in Monte Mojino in southern Sinaloa.

Lines of work

- 1 Operation of a compensation mechanism for local inhabitants.
- 2 Improvement of soil retention and reduction of soil erosion.

- 3 Improvement of the condition of ecosystems and "flagship" species.
- 4 Operation of an effective monitoring program.

Achievements

Sustainable management of 2,224 hectares of tropical dry forest.

Annual monitoring of soils, birds, fish and microendemic plants.

Reduction of environmental illicit activities.

Consolidation of the community surveillance program.

Data updated at the end of 2022.
