Objective

The Monarch Butterfly Fund is a public-private effort developed in collaboration with federal and state government institutions, organizations, and forest landowners to support the conservation of the forests in the core area of the Monarch Butterfly Biosphere Reserve (RBMM, acronym in Spanish) administered by the National Commission of Natural Protected Areas (CONANP, acronym in Spanish).

- Buffer zone of the RBMM
- Core zone of the RBMM
- Indigenous community
- Ejido
- Small property
- State property
- Federal property

Ejidos, indigenous communities and small properties that participate in the Monarch Butterfly Fund.

Lines of work

- 1 Remuneration to the owners of the core area for the provision of ecosystem services.
- 2 Support for investments and compensation for the adoption of good management practices.
- 3 Environmental monitoring.
- 4 Support for the diversification and permanence of financing to promote the sustainable management of natural resources.

Achievements

12,367 hectares under sustainable use.

Positive impact on the well-being of 9,119 local inhabitants.

Participation of 33 ejidos, indigenous communities, and small properties.
